Horse's Tail Causes Big Damage to Thresher

A rather peculiar accident happened to Shantz's threshing outfit on Saturday last. They were threshing for Mr. Walter Scheidt. One of the bunch teams drew up and just as it reached the machine a gust of wind came along and blew one of the horses tails into the machinery. Only a whip of hair about the size of a finger was caught, but it beat the main driving shaft and broke several castings, the damage amounting to between three and four hundred dollars.

Death of Mrs. H. Goudie Occurs in Ontario

The many friends of Mrs. H. Goudie will be sorry to hear of her death on Monday the 26th day of September. Mrs. Goudie has lived in the west with her husband for fifteen years, a large part of which were spent in Didsbury where Mr. Goudie was pastor in the Mennonite church. Owing to her ill health however they have spent the last ten months in Ontario where she finally passed away. Besides her husband she leaves two sons, one west of Didsbury and one in Edmonton, to mourn her loss.

The School Fair A Success

Uncertain weather conditions no doubt had something to do with the attendance at the School Fair held on Tuesday at the Fair grounds in Didsbury, but it was unfortunate that more interest was not taken by the grown-ups. The exhibits were exceptionally good, and the youngsters as well as the teachers deserve a great deal of commendation for the excellent displays not only in their school work but also for their ability shown in the splendid display of cooking, canning, and vegetables. The latter made a big display and not only drew the attention of the parents interested but was the admiration of every person who attended the Fair. The Barnard children of Elton seemed to be the main prize winners in this display. The cooking and canning done by the girls was also a very large exhibit and a spot of great interest to the visitors, some of whom were greatly tempted to sample the splendid specimens of cake, cookies, bread, etc., which looked exactly like mother makes.

The fancy work, map drawing, writing, compositions and field grains and seed sections were all well filled, but the live stock was not quite as large as might have been expected. The chicken section was very good as was also the pigs, but the horse and cattle classes were not very well filled, the Full, Kirth and Bersht boys being the main exhibitors in the horse classes, while the Freeman and Singleton boys were the main exhibitors in the pig classes. Masters McCoy and Morton lead in the calf classes.

A feature of the Fair was the athletic events most of which were participated in by the High Schools. The Fair was a success from every point of view with the exception of the attendance of the adult population which should have been a good deal better.

Mrs. Revell Injured
By Kick From Cows

MRS. A. A. REVELL SUFFERS BAD ACCIDENT

To be kicked by two cows at once seems to be adding insult to injury but that's what happened to Mrs. A. A. Revell, who lives a short distance west of town on Monday night. It appears she was milking and suddenly at the milking and somethin' another two cows kicking at one another - two of the consequences that Mrs. Revell was made to suffer from a double fracture of the leg just above the ankle. She was brought into the Didsbury General Hospital at once and the injured member attended to. Her very many friends in the district will be glad to hear that she is progressing favorably.

The West and Redistribution

It is altogether probable that even before the present issue of this paper reaches the readers, the Dominion Parliament will be dissolved and will be called for a new Parliament whose legal span of life will run until 1927, unless, because of some exceptional circumstance, it is deemed advisable to consult the people before that year.

In compliance with the terms of the constitution of Canada a census of the population was taken in the month of June last. It is also provided by the constitution that upon the completion of such census the representation of the several Provinces in the House of Commons shall be readjusted in such manner as to give to each Province equality of representation based on population, such readjusted representation to become effective upon the termination of the then existing Parliament.

It is admitted by all people in Canada, from Premier Meighen down, that that portion of Canada west of the Great Lakes will be shown to be entitled to a larger representation than it now enjoys, and the fact is equally well recognized that Canada east of the Great Lakes will not be entitled to quite as many representatives as it now has.

Nevertheless, although it would require only a few months more to compute and tabulate the 1921 figures of population and thus make possible an early and full readjustment of the representation of the Provinces in the House of Commons, Parliament is hastily dissolved, although no new or sudden issue has arisen, and waits for a new Parliament issued which will result in Canada for the next five years being governed by a House of Commons which is not truly representative of the country.

The action taken may be constitutional within the strict meaning of the law, but it seems a violation of the spirit of the constitution. Yet it is not the first time this has happened in Canada. In fact ever since the population of the West began to increase so rapidly, while the population of Ontario and the Maritime Provinces failed to keep pace with Quebec's increase in population, there has been a tendency at Ottawa to precipitate general elections in the year of the census taking right on the eve of redistribution but before making it effective.

Let us take a historical glance back over the past thirty years and the last three census enumerations. In 1891 the House of Commons consisted of 216 members representing the Provinces as follows: Ontario 92, Quebec 65, Nova Scotia 21, New Brunswick 15, Prince Edward Island 6, Manitoba 5, British Columbia 6, North West Territories 4. This was a census year but instead of a redistribution bill being passed before going to the country, Parliament was dissolved, the issue being reciprocity with the United States, which was not until five years later that the country secured the benefits of the readjustment which was really due in 1891.

The next census came in 1901, but a general election had been held the preceding year, but as the result of the previously delayed redistribution Ontario was entitled to only 80 members instead of 92, the three Maritime Provinces lost 8, while Manitoba doubled its quota from 5 to 10, the North West Territories from 4 to 11, and British Columbia added one. In 1906 the new Provinces of Alberta and Saskatchewan were created, Saskatchewan being given 10 members and Alberta 7. This additional representation became effective in 1908.

While the figures of the census of 1911 were being tabulated, reciprocity with the United States again became a live issue and an Agreement signed with the United States under the terms of which for ratification, reciprocity developed. Eastern Canada and the Opposition were dead set and blocked the passage of the bill. The Government then sought appeal to the country, and once again the West was deprived of its rightful representation on a question in which it was vitally interested, while the East was allowed a representation to which it was not fully entitled.

War broke out in 1914 and by agreement the life of the Parliament elected in 1911 was extended and it was not until 1917, therefore that the people secured the benefit of the representation to which they were really entitled in 1911. That long delayed readjustment further reduced Ontario's representation to 82, a loss of 10 members in two decades; Nova Scotia dropped to 16, a loss of 5 in the same period; New Brunswick fell to 11, a loss of 5; P.E.I. to 3, or only one-half what it had in 1891. On the other hand Manitoba increased to 15, or three times its representation in 1891; Saskatchewan got 16 and Alberta 12, as compared with 4 for the N.W.T. in 1891; British Columbia was accorded 12 as compared with 6 in 1891, and the Yukon was given one.

In other words, although the membership of the House of Commons only increased from 215 in 1891 to 231 on the strength of the census of 1911, the representation west of the Great Lakes rose from 15 to 37, while the representation east of the Great Lakes fell from 200 to 175.

R. R. generally agreed both East and West that the same evolution in the political power of the country is taking place; that is, that the representation of the West will be increased and that of the East decreased when the final figures for 1921 are tabulated. It means that for one-half of the single period during which the readjusted representation should be in effect the West will be under-represented.

Scottish Castle Sold

Hass Secret Chamber and Walls Ten Feet Thick.

Vicomtess Courtney has bought the estate of Castle Fraser, Donabie, Aberdeenshire, £23,000. Castle Fraser is reported to one of the finest specimens of the Pictish style of architecture in Scotland.

The castle has a secret chamber in which the master of the house could overhear the conversation of his guests in the dining hall. This is supposed to have suggested to Sir Walter Scott a similar contrivance in "The Fortunes of Nigel." Walls throughout the building, which stands upon arches, are iron & steel to 10 feet thick.

Many Uses For Paper.

In the art of making and using paper we are not in line with the Chinese and other Asiatics, who not only make the finest paper in the world, but apply it to all sorts of uses, making window panes, umbrellas, fans, sandals and even cloaks and garments of it.

The Many-Purpose Oil.—Both in the home and stable there are scores of oil which can be used for the cure of its ills. For cuts, bruises, burns, scalds, the pains of rheumatism and sciatica, sore throat and chest. Horses are often very lame from stiffness, aches and lameness, as often as not, however, are equally amenable to the healing influence of this fine old remedy which has made thousands of firm friends during the past fifty years.

A Disappearing Island.

One of the most curious of disappearing islands is Fiddaloo, situated off the northwestern corner of Australia, and which was visited as lately as 1892. Today it has disappeared, and is now fifty feet below water. The island was 13 miles long and famous for its beauty.

"I see you have a new hired man, Mr. Potts," said Ellen Potts. "This is he doing?"

"Resting considerable easier than the other one did, thank ye!" replied the disgusted farmer.

A Growing Union

Movement In Progress to Extend Union of South Africa.

The Union of South Africa, over which General Smuts presides, contains four provinces, but is only a third larger than British Columbia, or two-thirds the area of Quebec. The movement now in progress for the annexation of the colony of Rhodesia, at present administered by the British South Africa Company, would nearly double the area of the Union by adding 150,000 square miles to the 473,000 now administered by the Union Government. It would add 1,500,000 to the native population, with some 10,000 Europeans.

The Government of Mr. Smuts is also administering the former German protectorate of West Africa, an estimated area of 1,000,000 miles, with a small European population and about one hundred thousand natives. The number of the natives was greatly reduced, and some races nearly exterminated during the German occupation. General Smuts is thus likely to have under his jurisdiction 1,200,000 square miles of territory, with a 600 square miles of territory, with a total population not much less than that of Canada.—The Daily Province.

BARELY LIVED THROUGH IT

A terrible experience had Edw. J. Gowan, of Sainte Marie, from October 1 to November 1. He had a constant sufferer from asthma and Catarrh. My nose and throat was often stopped up, and I had disagreeable droppings from my throat. When an attack came on me I thought it seemed as if I would barely live through it. I would gasp for breath, Catarrhine made me well, but soon nothing could act on me to stop the sufferer from Catarrh, Asthma, Throat Irritation and Bronchitis. Catarrh is highly recommended. Two bottles of it cost one dollar, smaller size 50c and 50c at all dealers or The Catarrhine Co., Montreal.

Snub From Argentine Government. The Foreign Minister, however, received him at his residence in a private capacity.

DELICATE GIRLS NEED NEW BLOOD

Rich, Red Blood Means Health and Strength.

The anemia of young girls may be inherited, or it may be caused by bad air, unsanitary food, bad taste and irregular eating, insufficient out-door exercise and not enough rest and sleep.

It comes on gradually, beginning with languor, indisposition to mental or bodily exertion, irritability and a feeling of fatigue. Later on headache, dizziness, following a stooping position, frequent backaches and breathlessness. In a majority of cases constipation is present. There is no great loss of flesh, but usually the complexion takes on a greenish-yellow pallor.

Cases of this kind, if neglected, become chronic. If the patient is strong there is no need to worry. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, which are free from any harmful or half-forming drugs, just as the tonic medicine to strengthen the whole system of health.

Though it is not noticeable, improvement begins with the first dose. As the blood is made rich the patient feels the full strength and activity of the body, and the danger of collapse is very slight.

If any symptom of anaemia appears, prompt suggestions that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills should be taken at once, and the sooner they are taken the more speedily will their action improve the blood. You can get these pills through any dealer in these boxes of 50, 100, 200, 500, 1,000, box or six boxes for $2.50 from Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

A Pertinent Question

Why Did Kaiser Run If Troops Were Never Vanquished?

With its old-time grandiloquence the former German Kaiser sent a message to the Junker meeting held by his son and Ludendorff in Berlin recently, in which he exclaimed: "With proud and warm gratitude I think today of my brave comrades, never vanquished in the field." But if they were never vanquished in the field why is that the pulsant partner of "Me and God" so unmercifully shamed into hiding in Holland, whence he has never dared poke his head across the border since?—London Courier-Journal.

Killed By Blood Poison

Used an old razor for paring his corns. For a week he ate a bottle of vitamin's Palma oil. For a month he had corns and warts. Now he is dead. He was never vanquished in the field. But if they were never vanquished in the field why is that the pulsant partner of "Me and God" so unmercifully shamed into hiding in Holland, whence he has never dared poke his head across the border since?—London Courier-Journal.

Rooms With Baths Are Scarce.

In London and Paris there are several hotels which have rooms with private baths, but there are very few bathrooms in the average European hotel. It is always an extra even when used with cold water. Hot water is difficult to obtain in winter, and in some hotels, where it is worked by a slot machine attached to a gas geyser, the guest has to feed it with 20 cents for every quart of water.

Paring a corn is both risky and ineffective. It is much better to use Holloway's Corn Remover and eradicate them entirely.

Steel Shipped By Airplane

Was Required in a Hurry For London Depot.

Two cwt. of steel were conveyed from Manchester to London by airplane for use in connection with the completion of the steel work construction of the new depot of the London General Omnibus Company at Calthorpe, W. The aeroplane, an Avro, was chartered by Lancashire and Co., Ltd., Victoria Steel Works, Oldham, Lancashire. The flight took 100 minutes. The steel was urgently required for certain vital parts of the building. The machine left Manchester at 9 a.m., reached Calthorpe, London, at noon, and by about four o'clock the steel was in position on the new depot.

A Remedy for Earache.—To have the earache is to endure torture. The ear is a delicate organ and few care to deal with it, preferring to give it to a doctor. Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil offers a simple remedy. A few drops upon a piece of lint or medicated cotton and placed in the ear will do much in relieving pain.

Industrial Ontario

Has More Than 60 Per Cent of Dominion's Manufacturing Plants.

Ontario is the richest province of Canada. Of Dominion's wealth, estimated at $2,891,600,000 for the year just past, Ontario's share was $1,267,600,000. Consistent with the remainder of the Dominion agriculture asserts its superiority over other lines of activity and maintains the premier place in provincial assets. Ontario is, however, the first industrial province of Canada considerably more than fifty per cent of the product of the Dominion's manufacturing plants being attributable to this province.

LETTER FROM

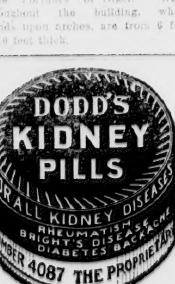

MRS. WAKELIN

Tells Remarkable Story of Sickness and Recovery.

Toronto, Ont.—"I suffered greatly from weakness, seemed to be failing all the time, and had no ambition to do anything or go anywhere. My nerves were in a bad condition, I could not sleep at night, and then came a breakdown. I read about Mrs. E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in the newspaper, and several of my friends advised me to use it, and it surely put new life into me. Now I am quite able to do my own work, and I fly in an airplane and visit foreign women to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial." —Mrs. Charles Wakelin, 272 Christie Street, Toronto, Ont.

Terrific Explosion Wrecks Chemical Plant At Oppau, Germany

MAYENCE.—A great explosion at the chemical products plant of the Badische Anilinfabrik Company at Oppau, on the Rhine, wrecked the town and spread death and destruction on every hand. The number killed is variously estimated at from 1,000 to 1,500, and the injured close to two thousand. One report says that there were 2,000 men on the spot at the moment of the explosion and it is believed that about half of these were killed.

The town of Oppau is a scene of utter desolation, more than a third of the houses having been completely demolished, while the roofs of the others were swept off as if by a whirlwind. Here also many were killed or injured.

The explosion is attributed to some to excess pressure in gasoline tanks, to which of the tanks of the plant had been literally universal. Whereas the gasometers stood to now a funnel-shaped pole 130 yards wide and 15 yards deep, with twisted girders and debris of every description the scattered about. For a distance of several hundred yards not a wall is left standing.

The directorate of the company is quoted as saying that the explosion occurred in a storeroom containing four thousand tons of nitro-sulphates, which had previously been examined and was believed to be free from danger of explosion. All the workmen's dwellings in the city were razed to the ground. At Mannheim, on the opposite side of the river, 35 persons were seriously injured and two hundred or more suffered minor injuries. Ludwigshafen reports say that three workmen's trains were buried under the wreckage, and many children are their way to school in that town were injured.

MAYENCE.—A late statement issued by the management of the Oppau factory says that the explosion occurred in a reservoir containing 200 tons of ammonium sulphite. It adds that all necessary precautions had been taken during the process of manufacture and storing the product, so that an explosion appeared impossible.

Russian Scouts Ask For Famine Aid

Send Appeal For Starving Children to Canadian Scouts.

CHINA.—The Russian boy scouts are sending a message to the Canadian scouts appealing to them to organize famine aid. Many children have been sent here from the Volga country this month. They will be appointed among private families as the Chinese Government is not able to provide for them owing to its lack of funds.

The children coming from the interior of Russia brought a little food with them. An analysis of their bread shows that it was made of a mixture of sorghum, grass and a trace of bran.

According to reports received here in the ten governments in the valley of the Volga there are 90,000,000 persons starving.

Food Is Cheaper In England

Shopkeepers Also Lowering Prices of Dry Goods.

London.—While the general tendency of retail prices in England is downward, complaint has been made that the licensed victuallers are now charging more for beer and whiskey although the cost of brewing materials has decreased. Shopkeepers are generally lowering their prices of food-stuffs and dry goods in consequence of the announced drop in current wholesale quotations.

In reality, this means a sacrifice of profit on the retailers' part, but it is pointed out that many of the retailers who are most reluctant now were among the first to mark up their existing stocks when prices were rising.

Plan To Reclaim Lands In B.C.

Would Bring About Thirty Thousand Acres Under Cultivation.

Recently there appeared in the press a dispatch from Victoria, B.C., stating that at a joint conference of the drainage officials of the State of Idaho and the Province of British Columbia, an agreement had been entered into which would assure full-up investigation work to determine the feasibility or otherwise of draining 60,000 acres of land in the Kootenay River Valley, approximately half of which area lies in Idaho and the other half in British Columbia.

Looking solely at the 30,000 acres on the Canadian side of the boundary line, to the average prairie-bounder the bringing of this area less than 50 sections—under cultivation is a matter of hardly more than passing moment; in many parts of the west the swinging of such a project nowadays would get scant attention except for local publicity purposes.

In British Columbia, however, where 30,000-acre tracts of continuous agricultural land of outstanding fertility is very much the exception rather than the rule, the probability of ultimately bringing such an area under production is attracting almost unavoidable attention. In some measure due to the fact that the lands reclaimed from the water are located in the very heart of a country that rather haphazardly need-cultivated products of the sorts this so-called territory can produce in both quantity and quality.

The cause of this annual overflow of the 200,000 people living a number of too large an area of water is too much an outlet for the spring rains.

The Kootenay River, with its tributaries, draining the whole of the western slopes of the Rocky Mountains in B.C. and the Selkirk ranges, after a bold sweep southward running into the United States as far as Bonners Ferry, Idaho, from that point turns directly north again to B.C. and Kootenay Lake.

At the same time the Larder River and others run into the lake at the other end and the combined volume of water passes out toward the centre of the lake by a passage called the West Arm, like the downward stroke of a gigantic T, past Nelson and Bonnington Falls to join the Columbia River.

The reclamation has solely to do with the enlarging of the lake's outlet.

In 1913 a preliminary survey was made by Engineer Mueller, who in his findings reported favorably on the project but waited for a more thorough examination of the whole territory before making a final decision.

With the outbreak of the war the next year the scheme was, for the time being, abandoned. American engineers have also spent two seasons on the work, and their report made public.

The land is in one of the older settled parts of B.C. interior, already supplied with railway communication by the Canadian National, has good highway, telephone and facilities and every modern convenience. The price of the property would be at no expense to the government.

The lands are in the interior of B.C.

The entire area in B.C. is not mentioned land and the Board of Trade at Creation which for years has been urging its reclamation expects that the provincial lands department—if the lands are drained—will adopt a policy of selling the tract in not larger than 160-acre farms to bona fide farmers or settlers, at a price that will easily suffice to meet the full cost of draining the area. As to the cost of the work it has been agreed that the U.S. and British Columbia interests will pay this pro rata on the basis of areas reclaimed.

Canadian Loan To China

Agreement Recently Signed Has Raised Important Issues.

London.—The Times quotes from Peking says that important issues have been raised in the agreement recently signed in that city by which a Canadian banking syndicate will lend the Republic of China $3,000,000 gold against one-year bonds, secured on various enterprises. It is noted that the discount and interest give a return to the Canadian investors of a rate exceeding 20 per cent, per annum.

The correspondent says that the transaction seems to be in order except that the conversion of the powers formed to regulate the operation of a loan to China has not been consulted and that the loan is a direct negation of the British Government's policy in China.

It is pointed out, however, that the Canadian Government is not a party to the convention agreement between Great Britain, United States, France and Japan and may feel compelled to negotiate to observe its terms.

The Canadian Government has good reason to believe that the loan will be used to subvert the eastern provinces of the republic.

The ultimate effect will be to undermine the external power of England and France.

The gravest charge pertaining to the Russia-Afghanistan treaty and M. Chicherin's insistence upon a clause in this treaty providing for the opening of embassies in Eastern Afghanistan.

Lord Curzon, in a statement to the House of Commons, said that the Government possessed indisputable evidence that these treaties are regarded by the Soviet Government as prospective centres of propaganda and also has evidence of the activities of Jamil Pasha sent to Afghanistan by the Soviet to provide the hostile tribesmen with funds, arms and ammunition.

The British foreign secretary asks for definite assurance that these activities constituting breaches of the trade agreement, shall cease.

The note demands that the Soviet used every persuasion to prevent the Ankara Government from arriving at a peaceful solution with the Entente powers and associated countries force on the borders of Anatolia, suggesting that they should be sent into Anatolia for the support of the Kemalists.

Disorders In Vienna

Cloud Lingers As Profiteering In Foreign Exchange Values.

Vienna.—Serious disorders continued in this city following the closing of the banks. Many refugees were madly speculating in foreign exchange, but these were checked by the police. The crowds then wreaked the shops of several money-changers in the vicinity, while a few men suspected of speculating in foreign exchange were dragged from their automobiles and beaten.

Impromptu mass meetings were addressed by speakers who declared the bourse would be closed permanently if profiteering in foreign exchange values did not cease.

Will Not Visit Canada.

London.—There is no question as to the Prince of Wales visiting Canada on his return journey from his tour of India as he will follow the same route homeward as on his outward voyage, namely, via the Suez Canal.

Warms Irish Taxpayers.

Belfast.—Irish Republican authorities have warned the people of some of the districts of Ireland to refuse to pay income taxes to British collectors until the Dail Eireann has reached a decision on that subject.

London.—The British Government has despatched a strongly-worded note to Moscow calling the attention of the Soviet Government to alleged breaches of faith involved in the presence by the Russians throughout Central Asia and Afghanistan of a campaign of brigandage directed towards Great Britain. An explanation is demanded.

The note details fully the alleged hostilities committed by Moscovites there were in Afghanistan.

The note, which was written by the foreign minister, Earl Curzon, details a number of flagrant violations of Russia's undertaking under the trade agreement with Great Britain to cease anti-British propaganda and particularly enumerates the activities of the Third International of Moscow in India and Afghanistan, quoting in substantiation thereof a statement in M. Stalin's speech of the eastern section of the third International, urging the eastern sections to devote itself to undermining the external power of England and France.

Fire Destroys Lumber Stocks

Loss of Ontario Company Will Be Heavy.

PARRY SOUND, Ont.—Fire destroyed the mill and lumber stocks of the Conger Lumber Company, as well as a large number of boats, canoes and bough houses along the waterfront, a total loss of $10,000. The fire threatened the town itself but was thrown out before it could do any serious damage.

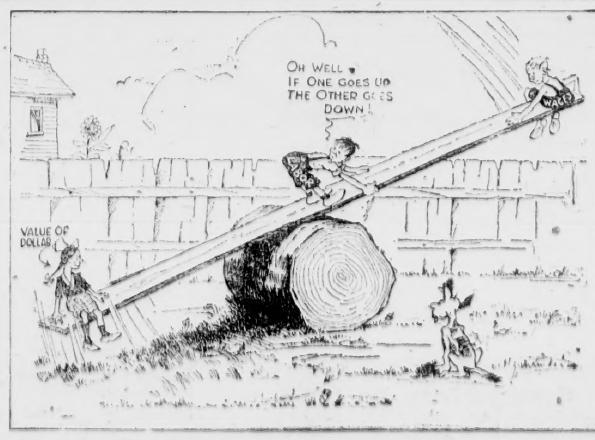

Besides the mill and machinery, the loss includes in addition 1,000 feet of lumber, four million pieces of lath, piles, clats or other mill products, as well as barns, stables, dwellings, tramways and railway spur lines. The extent of the loss, which has not yet been estimated, is partly covered by insurance. About eighty men will be thrown out of employment.

Five Days On Wreck

Fisherman Rescues Woman, Sole Survivor of Ship.

St. VINCENT, Windward Islands.—A woman passenger was the sole survivor of the ship Constitution, which sank off St. Lucia to a depth of 100 fathoms on September 8 and was dismantled. The woman remained clinging to the hull after all the others had been swept away. Drifting through high seas, the vessel finally stranded on a reef on the grandanade, and after five days in her perilous position, the woman was observed by a fisherman, who rescued her.

A Short Political History of the Three Leaders

Three leaders all on the sunny side of fifty, and all Presbyterians. Sir Wilfrid Laurier was elected to the Quebec legislature for Drummond and Arthabaska three years before Arthur Meighen and William Lyon Mackenzie King were born, and Thomas Alexander Crerar at that time was a babe in swaddling clothes. Sir Wilfrid was elected to the Commons the very year that the present prime minister first opened his eyes in that little farm house in Blanchard Township Perth County, and Mackenzie King played in his cradle in the then small village of Berlin. When they had reached the mature age of three, Sir Wilfrid was a minister in the Mackenzie administration and little Tom Crerar was toddling about his father's farm at Molesees. Yet Sir Wilfrid lived to see Arthur Meighen rise to power in the Conservative party and a leading member of the government, and to make Mackenzie King a member of one of his own administration. The campaign which is now opening up is in all truth a young man's fight: the respective leaders are not overburdened by the weight of years in fact this is an election in which youth is going to have its fling.

PREMIER MEIGHEN

When the eleventh parliament met in the early part of 1909 following the general elections of the preceding autumn, there were many new faces to be seen on the opposition side of the House. Laurier was in the full enjoyment of his unenvied power; he had been "ept back into office by an avalanche of votes the rallying cry being that the National Transcontinental and "Let Laurier finish his work". When the house met the Liberals were in a jaunty mood; defeat seemed to them to be an event which need not be reckoned with, and they had with them the "Peerless One" with his magnificent powers apparently untouched by the frosts of advancing years. But the jaunty Liberals soon found there was a fresh force on the opposition benches. Now and younger blood was there and among the newest and youngest was a callow slim youth in his early thirties with the eyes of a dreamer and a rather determined looking east of jaw who was returned from Portage la Prairie in the place of Tom Crawford, a stalwart Liberal. In the hurry and scramble of the first few weeks of the session, when everyone was looking over his neighbor, and sizing up the new order of things the little chap was more or less forgotten. Then one day a western question was brought into the cockpit and Arthur Meighen made his maiden speech. His doctor mate was Arthur Goodloe, and near by sat Arthur Burrell. Over on the Liberal overflow was Doctor Michael Clark, all of them, however, Meighen soon struck his stride, even in those early days of his parliamentary career he had superb self confidence, and before many minutes had passed the House, accustomed as it was to maiden efforts was all astir. There was something unusual about the quiet mastery of himself and his subject which this striking exhibited, which doomed all eyes upon him.

That maiden speech marked him as a coming man. When the tide turned in 1911 he was again elected for Portage and his youth alone kept him out of the Borden cabinet, and gave the place to Doctor Riche, a mild mannered medico from Manitoba who had been hammering away from the opposition benches since 1896. Arthur Meighen became more and more the rising hope of the government side of the House. He it was who rushed in where Borden feared to tread, and smote Laurier and the Grits hip and thigh. Soon after the war broke out he entered the cabinet as Solicitor General and his rise has since been meteoric. When Sir Robert Borden, wearied and worn, relinquished the burden in July of last year, there were no shoulders upon whom the mantle could properly fall than those of Meighen. Sir Thomas White who was regarded as being the logical heir apparent was no longer in active politics; and when caucus voted for a successor to Robert Borden the preponderance in favor of the present prime minister was overwhelming.

There are many thousands from the Atlantic to the Pacific to whom Arthur Meighen is merely a name but who will during the course of the campaign now opening, have an opportunity of seeing and hearing him on the hustings. They may or may not be disappointed.

MACKENZIE KING

And what of this opponent who leads the Liberal party, or rather that portion of it which is not captured by the National Liberal and Conservative party? William Lyon Mackenzie King is Scotch on both sides of the house and a Presbyterian by religion. Perhaps that is why he makes his "election sure" at the Liberal Convention in the summer of 1919. While Mr. Meighen is a student Mr. King is more of a teacher—that is to say one is content to learn while the other is keen on displaying his knowledge and imparting it to others. Mr. King is an M. A. of Toronto and Harvard and his speeches which in latter years have developed a disreputable tinge which is somewhat painful to his auditors are indicative of his college training. He has not realized the truth of the axiom that a speech should be like a woman's dress; long enough to cover the subject but short enough to be attractive. Mr. King entered the Commons also in 1909 in the same election as Mr. Meighen, coming in by way of North Waterloo his native constituency. (Ever in now Kitchener was his birthplace). Unlike Mr. Meighen, Mr. King was born politically with a silver spoon in his mouth. Sir Wilfrid always liked him, and when the Department of Labor was created in 1909 "Billy" King as he used to be known when he "covered" hotel roofs and churches on the local staff of the Globe was made deputy minister. He remained there eight years to be succeeded by another Globeman, F. A. Acland. It would appear that in those days whenever the Globe wanted to get rid of a man or two they had "wished" them on

SHORT POLITICAL HISTORY

Laurier. However in 1908 Mr. King resigned as deputy minister of Labor and was elected for the riding of North Waterloo, having been made Minister of Labor when Rudolph Lemieux stepped up to the Post, master Generalship in the shoes of Sir William Mulock. Mr. King's administration was not marked by many flashes of brilliance; he labored prodigiously in the house to pass legislation of a radical nature with regard to combines and such, but the statute books were merely cluttered up with unworkable acts. Mr. King's cabinet tenure was brief; he went down in the tidal wave of 1911 being defeated in North Waterloo by "Billy" Wedderburn. He tried to come back via the North York route in 1917 but John A. Macdonald Armstrong (there's a good old Tory name for you) held the seat securely. To the majority of Canadian people Mr. King is even more of a name than Mr. Mighen though he has gone about a great deal since the leadership came to him on a Quebec platform. That was in reality his "dies faustus"—his lucky day when he needed the old warhorse William Stevens Fielding for the prize. On the stump Mr. King is inequitable and moderately effective. He has the rather unfortunate habit of talk over the heads of his audience but he can be eloquent in his own way. There is not much subtlety about him; he can hit hard and in this campaign he will at least be untiring and enthusiastic in his efforts to win.

ALEXANDER CRERAR

But the dark horse is Thomas Alexander Crerar the leader of the "National Progressives"—in other words the agrarians. In his opening speech of the campaign in London, Mr. McInnes referred not to the challenge which came from the Liberals under Mr. King, but to the drift of the forces led by Mr. Crerar. This man has had no parliamentary experience to speak of; he came into the House in 1917 when the Union Government was formed and he went out of the government two years later when the war was over. For the best part of his life he has been up to the eves in the grain business and is president of the United Grain Growers Limited and the Grain Export Co. Limited. And if the signs and portents do not fail Mr. Crerar is opposed to anything in the nature of a public investigation into the grain business. Mr. Crerar, although he has developed lately to a more confident public speaker, has, and knows his limitations in this particular regard. Most of the说话 for the third party in the Commons is done by Doctor Michael Clark. Mr. Crerar sits by and cheers Red Michael on. He is a man of charming personality, a keen astute business man rather than a politician who today finds himself at the head of a movement which threatens to disintegrate the two old line parties. It is quite possible that when the smoke of battle is cleared away this man who was born on an Ontario farm near St. Jacobs may find himself at the head of the strongest group numerically in the new House. He is able, and during Canada's time of stress he served her well as Minister of Agriculture for a period, striking his personal opinions in the face of the national peril. But Thomas Alexander Crerar like distinguished opponents Messrs. Mighen and King will never compel the affection of his fellows by reason of his personality. Apparently we only get a Macdonald and a Laurier at very long intervals. (This much can be said for Mr. Crerar, he will not stoop to personalities in this campaign, whatever his followers may do and he may be counted upon to furnish a clean fight, with no hitting below the belt.) —Toronto Saturday Night.

What is a Recommendation Worth?

That depends very much upon who gives it. For instance we recommend Ames Holden "Auto-Shoes" as the cheapest mileage you can buy.

And we know a lot about tires. We have to in our business.

Hence our recommendation should carry some weight, apart from the fact that we are bending to some extent by your custom.

We know that if you buy once, you will buy again—because you will find that our recommendation saves you money on mileage.

We will give you a guarantee with Ames Holden "Auto-Shoes" too—a guarantee that protects you against any defect in material or craftsmanship which would shorten the life of the tire. And we will get you an adjustment on that basis should necessity arise, without quibble or red-tape. Drop in and let us show you Ames Holden "Auto-Shoe" to-day if you can.

Choosing Future Queen

Prince of Wales Will Not Be Forced Into Matrimony.

The public never tires of providing the Prince of Wales with wives; it is a favorite amusement not only with women but with men. I was told in confidence who the embryo Princess really is the other day. I shall not betray that confidence, but may say it is a girl whose engagement to quite another young man will soon be announced. Yet I was assured the information came from a member of His Royal Highness's household direct to my informant. So much for social tips, which are about as reliable as racing tips. The Prince is not going to be either hurried or coerced into matrimony. When the announcement of his engagement is made it will be sudden and surprising we may be sure of that—and it will not please everybody!—Behind Weekly News.

He started a good pudding-proof, but he didn't finish it.

There's a lot of trouble in the world from puddings that taste good but don't do good.

They "eat" well, but that ends the recommendation.

Sanitariums are full of pudding-eaters who stopped the testat taste and forgot to inquire whether their food gave the body what it needed—until the body rebelled.

Error In Report.

A discrepancy of 166,000,000 bushels in the crop yield estimate of the Dominion Bureau of Statistics is revealed by officials of the Saskatchewan Co-operative Elevator Company. Quoting the estimated wheat yield for the Dominion this year as 201,600,000 bushels, the Dominion Bureau's report says that the total may be greater than the aggregate in 1915, which, by the Bureau's own figures was 393,000,000 bushels.

A MOTHER'S ADVICE

Once a mother has used Italy's Own Tablets for her little ones she is always happy to recommend them to others. Her babies, given after birth, can be easily cured with assured good results. The Tablets are a mild but thorough laxative which never fail to regulate the bowels. They are good for children. They always do good—they cannot possibly do harm even to the youngest babe. Concerning them Mrs. P. LaFerriere, St. Nazaire, Que., writes:

For three months my baby was constipated and cried continually. The advice of a friend I gave him Italy's Own Tablets and now the age of 10 months she is perfectly well and weighs twenty pounds. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Wills' Outlets, Brooklyn, N.Y.

Canadian Wool Has Good Reputation

High Quality Appreciated by States and Overseas Markets.

A virtual revolution has been wrought in the wool industry of Canada in the past few years. Whereas but a short while ago the wool produced in Canada was offered for sale in such an unsatisfactory state that the Canadian manufacturer looked with indifference upon the home-grown product, to-day he realizes that Canadian wool compares favorably with that of any other country and more than half of the domestic production finds its way to Canadian mills. Not only is the high quality of the Canadian product appreciated locally now but in the United States and the overseas markets it is now generally recognized that Canadian sheepmen are producing wool the equal of similar classes and grades grown elsewhere in the world. Gradually but surely a reputation has been built up for Canadian fleece wool on the domestic and foreign markets,

The patriotic man is loyal to his country and to the community in which he lives. If he is consistent he will give first preference to Canadian made goods when making purchases. He will also stand loyally by his local dealer.

HARVEST FESTIVAL AT CHURCH OF ENGLAND

The Harvest Festival Service was held on Sunday evening, September 25th, in the English church. The church was very beautifully decorated for the occasion. Flowers, foliage, and grain with fruits and vegetables arranged by the ladies of the congregation gave a pleasing effect. The services were conducted by the Rev. H. Clay who preached an appropriate sermon. Mrs. Thomas presided very efficiently at the organ, and the special harvest hymns were sung very heartily by a large congregation. The incumbent wishes to thank all those who helped to make the Harvest Thanksgiving such a success. Any Church of England members who have not yet made themselves known are given a hearty invitation to attend the future services of the church which are held usually twice monthly. The next service will be held on the afternoon of September 9th at 3 o'clock.
